

Things to do
at home

Why take babies and toddlers to the library?

1. Babies can get their own library ticket, and it's free! Libraries love young children joining. (Parent just needs to take one piece of ID with name and address, to join.)
2. There are so many different kinds of books for young children to borrow and look at together.
3. It's a friendly, cosy place to pop into when you're out shopping or need a change of scene - good place for a rest with a tired or bored toddler! Search 'libraries' on google maps and you'll find libraries near you.
4. Many libraries have a story and rhyme-time for families - sometimes even a Peep session if you're lucky ;-)

peep

supporting parents and children to learn together

Find more Peep ideas:
@PeopleCentre

www.peeple.org.uk